D. Henry's best Government Navy CANVAS constantly on hand a HE Hongkong Fire Insurance Com-LAMMERT, ATKINSON & Co. PANY, which expires by effluxion of time in a few months, having proved a Hongkong, December 14, 1868. highly successful undertaking, it has been determined by a large number of its share-Just Received from France and for Sale by holders to form a permanent Company the Undersigned Fresh supply of BUTTER in Bottles, under the same management and with increased Capital. It is proposed to register the Company under the Limited Liability Ordinance, A fine assortment of French BUNBONS and the amount of the Capital having been fixed at Two Millions of Dollars, it is considered that Insurers will be amply secured thereby, while at the same time each share-Crystallized FRUIT, BONBONS with holder will know the extent of his individual liability. The capital proposed to be called A large assortment of VEGETABLES up amounts to a large sum, and provision in tins. MACCARONI and VERMICEL will be made for the creation of an ample LI. French MUSTARD, French Salad Reserve Fund, which will, it is expected, in a very short time accumulate to an > amount practically to give the fullest security both to Insurers and Insured, irrespective of the unpaid Capital. It is intended to anticipate the termination of the Old Company, by dissolving it from and after the 31st December next, and measures are being taken for that purpose. In anticipating a successful career for the New Company, it is only necessary to present to the public the results of the Old

> Company since its establishment in May 1866, as exhibited by the following figures:-The total premiums collected from the 11th May 1866 to the present time, a period of only two years and five months, amount to......$304,727.72 The losses which have been paid within the same period have amounted to......$130,081.22 and include the large sum of $85,270 lost by the Fire at Hongkong in Nov. 1867. The amount now at the Credit of the Working Account, after paying all Expenses and Re-insurances to date.

exceeds.....$160,000.00 These figures fully warrant the mossanguine expectations of success, and it is but reasonable to expect that, strengthened with larger Capital, the present undertaking cannot fail to prove at least as successfu as the former one. The Old Company, when it entered the field, had to create business for itself, but the New one, in Hongkong for the occasion. taking over the outstanding risks and connections of the Old Company, will at once receive a very large amount of premium, and enter on a profitable and organised business. Moreover, there is no doubt that the risk of Fire in Hongkong has been greatly diminished by the Building Regulations now in force, and by the establishment of a Fire Brigade The following are the main features of the New Company:--. A first Call of $100, to be paid upon each share on allotment, and a further Call of $100 to be paid in Six Months; all further Calls to be determined upon at General Meetings of the shareholders. Interest at 12 per cent per annum to be in the first instance allowed on the paid up Capital, such Interest to be payable balf-yearly, on 30th June, and 30th December. The profits after deducting the Port. said Interest to be applied thus :-20 per cent, pro rata, amongst such of the shareholders as shall have contributed or influenced business to the Company, and the remainder in forming a Reserve Fund of $250,000. When such Reserve Fund shall have been accumulated, the payment of Interest to cease, and the profits to be apas already mentioned amongst the shareholders who shall have contributed business to the Company; 30 per cent, to the augmentation of the Reserve Fund until it shall reach $1,000,000, at which figure it is to be permanently maintained; and the remaining 50 per cent, to be distri-

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGRONG, SATURDAY, DEC. 19, 1868.

THE DRESS NOTIFICATION. WE have already noted the opposition with which the North China journals have received the notification issued by Sir Rutherford Alcock respecting the dress of Chinese-descended British subjects, and we now find a paragraph expressing similar sentiments in the Straits Times. Our Singapore contemporary has certainly a much stronger justification for expressing an adverse opinion than have residents at the ports inasmuch as while the carrying out of the notification may be attended with advantage to British interests in China, it may possibly affect the interests of the Chinese community at Singapore in an opposite way.

The last Government Gazette contains a circular from the British Minister in Pekin notifying that all Chinese who claim to be British subjects, must, when they return to their native land, discard their native costume or else they cannot claim the rights of British subjects. The press in China generally condemn this document of Sir Rutherford Alcock's. There is no reason given for its origin, and in the absence of any, we cannot but characterise it as a daugerous concession to the Chinese Government. It very nearly affects these Settlements. The prosperity of the Colony depends in the main upon the Chinese portion of the community. They are nearly all born, or naturalised, British subjects. They nearly all wish to return to China either for a time to recruit their health, or to permanently settle down. Are they not entitled to the just right of protection as British subjects from Mandarin squeezes without their national customs, habits of feelings being outraged-without their being obliged to become parishs in their native land by wearing a foreign costume?

Says our contemporary:—

We can readily understand that at a settlement where, until very lately, one of the two local journals was owned and published by a Chinese resident, considerable indignation is felt at Sir R. Alcock's action. But our Straits friends having learned to regard the Chinese 18 For Shanghae. the gambling-master, the above facts were so far corroborated. They stated that the first note could not be returned, as it had been sent to the Treasury to pay the Government Gambling Fee; but neither the master nor the accountant knew the sum paid to Government, while they admitted that the gambling was a bad business, and not very brisk. Other evidence showed that the note had been sent upstairs for a short time, and that the man who took it up had not been produced; upon which point a great deal of stress was laid by defendant's counsel Mr. Hayllar, in defence, submitted that

But his case was that the note must have been changed by the gambling people while it was upstairs. He did not wish to speak against the Chinese gambling-masters more than their profession called for; but here they had it shown that the gambling business was in a bad way, trade being very dull; so that the passing of a bad $100 note would be very much to be desired, and the present was a favorable opportunity of doing this. The note had not been traced to prisoner's possession prior to its being brought downstairs, and the prosecution had therefore technically failed. The Acting Attorney General said that there were two counts—one for uttering, knowing the note to be forged; and the other, charging prisoner with mere possession of the note.

JUSTICIA. MR COOPER'S JOURNEY. WE endeavoured, last week, to quote a few facts antagonistic to Mr Consul Morrison's theory on the subject of easy travelling in China: and, had not the necessity for compressing our article intervened, we should have been tempted to array more evidence against him. It may be superfluous to recur to the subject now; but one or two points rise up so strongly in condemnation against him, that we are loth to pass them over unnoticed. Foremost amongst these is the case of the Nepaulese Ambassador. who was detained for months on the Thibetan frontier, exposed to the petty annoyances and pilferings of a host of official underlings: afterwards led on to Chentu when the people of Ta-tsien-loo-who were laid under contribution to support his train -has been goaded nearly to revolt by the infliction: and finally ordered to give up his presents and to return whence he came, without seeing the sovereign to whom he was accredited. He had been so robbed, too, during his detention, that he was unable to proceed on his homeward journey, till the Provincial authorities had made good his losses. Does this look like ready willingness to let foreign travellers journey where they will? Here is actually the envoy of a friendly nation stopped on the borders of China and refused admission into the country. The case is worse than that of Lord Amherst's embassy, and shews the same exclusive spirit, in a still stronger

COLONIAL JUDGES AND LAWYERS Certain Singapore people some time ago memorialised the Colonial Office against the power given under their new charter to the Governor to suspend or remove a Judge. Of course the memorial was rejected. In the course of his reply the Duke of Buckingham said :---"I am far from undervaluing the know ledge and ability of Colonial Judges and Lawyers. But it is evident that no Lawyer can be advanced to a place on the English Bench without a professional trial longer and far more severe than that which would qualify him for a Colonial appointment and that an English Judge performs hi functions under the eye of a numerous and highly educated Bar, with the assistance and under the correction of Colleagues who are among the first Lawyers of the World and subject to the observation of a critical and well informed press. Lastly the engrossing nature of his own duties, and the magnitude of the aphere in which he acts render it improbable that he will so entangle himself in local, personal, or political controversies, as to impair his credit for judicial impartiality. Thus chosen and thus circumstanced there is little danger that an English Judge will neglect his duties or abuse his great powers.

"In the Colonies, I need scarcely point out, these securities for judicial propriety exist in a very mitigated form, and while with the memorialists, I hold it indispensable that no Governor should influence or attempt to influence, or if possible, have the power to influence, a decision of the Supreme Court, 1 do not think it for the good of the Community that a Functionary who is not, like an English Judge, immediately under the control of an enlarged public and professional opinion, nor, like the Governor. subject to the direct authority of the Crown should be relieved from that general res ponsibility to the local Executive which is confessedly necessary in the case of all other public Officers.

"I may add that, if he were thus relieve ed from responsibility to any local authority, he would occupy a position in some respects even more advantageous than that accorded to English Judges -who pefform their functions under the observation of body which is capable of removing them in case of improper behaviour-the Parliament of the United Kingdom."

GIBRALT R V. JERSEY AND GUERNSEY. The following letter appears in the Pall

Mall Gazette:— Sir.-In saying in your leading article, that "Gibraltar is an English possession iust as much as Jersey or Guernsey," you may unwarrantably, I fear, hurt the feelings of the free inhabitants of those islands, who are accustomed to look upon England as a possession of theirs much rather than the converse. The reason is clear; their original sovereigns were the Dukes of Normandy, one of whom made himself king of England; under his successors the continental part of the duchy was subdued by the French; but the progress of the invasion was zealously and successfully his heir as independently of us as the very Scots did: they were overpowered after an obstinate resistance by the forces of the Commonwealth, but I suppose they fully recovered their former status at the Restoration. If we proceed to search for substantial badges of the conquest of England and the independence of Jersey we shall find that the islanders are, or have till very lately, been in the habit of deporting their criminals and vagrants to shores, so that England has been a Moah or washpot to the country she arrogantly terms one of her possessions. could doubtless be more strongly stated to you by a native of the Channel islands but I make these hasty remarks in order to secure time for such an advocate, measurement of goods, exchanges, &c. have been selected from those constantly in use among the foreign merchants in China. Those for calculating the prices of tea in dollars or pence have been copied from the more extended tables, by the kind permis sion of the author, P. Loureiro, Esq. The last section of the same chapter on Movements in Bullion," has been prepared and furnished for the Guide by Patrick R. Harper Esq., of the Commercial Bank of India at Hongkong, who has had much experience in the exchanges and movements of the precious metals in Eastern Asia.

"The Appendix of Sailing Directions has been reprinted from the China Pilot." With short interruptions, the coasts from Singapore to Hakodadi are all described in it; and for the Chinese coasts, the Directions have been improved by the insertion of the Chinese characters for the names of all places that could be ascertained."

THE "TREATY PORTS OF CHINA L JAPAN," AND "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN."

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Japan" are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better known in India.

Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on China and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour.

The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success, we commend it to the attention and support of our readers.

(From the "London Examiner," May

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports of China and Japan"] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. It has been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds, considerably enhance its value. * * *

We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Canton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remainder of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to European readers respecting its history, public buildings, and general characteristics, that we would fain transfer them to our columns. A complete and intelligible plan of the Imperial City and neighbourhood, gives us an accurate notion of the relative position of its divisions, streets, and places.

In the introductory chapter to the notices of the Treaty Forts of Japan will be found as uccinct history of that Empire, together with remarks on its government, geography, and limits, which will be found particularly interesting as throwing a considerable light on a part of the world so long entirely, and still comparatively, unknown to Europeans.

The descriptions of Nagasaki, Yedo, Yo-kohama, and the other Treaty Ports of Japan, are as elaborate and entertaining as those of the Chinese ports. A copious index and a useful appendix containing many hints and much appropriate advice to travellers and others, is also included in the volume. The entire work affords a vast amount of information, pleasantly written, and we doubt not will be perused with interest by many who will never visit the Eastern seas.
